

Managing Noise: While On The Go

Open-plan offices and mobile working are great advancements. But with flexible workspaces comes a new challenge: noise. Over 90% of people surveyed believe they would be more productive in a less noisy environment.¹ Managing noise improves employee productivity,² customer experiences³ and profitability.² Plantronics removes the barriers to simple, clear communication with noise management solutions that help people work smarter and businesses run better.

PERSONA	DESCRIPTION	KEY CHALLENGE
Road Warrior	Always on the go; needs to connect via mobile devices from anywhere.	Poor call quality on conference calls and connection issues outside of office.
Flexible Worker	Works remotely and collaborates with colleagues in different places.	Background noise on calls; missing information out of office.
Remote Worker	Often works from home; rarely communicates face to face.	Call quality and reliability; difficult to know who's speaking on calls.
Connected Executive	Critical decision-maker; needs to stay connected across all devices.	Distracted by background noise while on calls.
